

Welcome Packet – School of Veterinary Medicine

For visitors, new faculty and staff, and new or prospective students we've identified some general information pieces and web links to provide you with a quick introduction to some of our major programs and activities. The school's extensive web site is a wonderful source of information that is updated often and we encourage you to spend time traveling around the site to gain a more in depth view of the breadth of program and expertise here at the School of Veterinary Medicine
