Strategy: Provide a supportive environment to foster faculty and staff success (6.2).

Date: Spring Quarter 2013

Summary of Activities:
- In May 2013, the working group of Lisa Tell and Lisa Miller met to populate the current web page with sufficient information such that it can be released for input by all SVM faculty and staff.
- Categories include child/elder care, lactation resources, family/personal leave, dual career assistance, flexible work options, community services & resources, employee discounts.
- Web links for all pages were tested (and re-tested) to ensure functionality.

Resource Materials/Data Analysis:
The working group of Lisa Tell and Lisa Miller focused on providing UC Davis specific links as well as links to appropriate resources off campus. Our rationale was that local services would be the most valuable for faculty and staff.

Upcoming Activities/Initiatives:
The working group will continue refinement of the SVM website by addition of other helpful links as information becomes updated and available. We will also work to improve the visual presentation of the site. Future activities include:
- Meeting with Cherie Fleish to tabulate faculty/staff personal leave policies and benefits in a tabular easy to read format similar to that developed by the SOM.
- With release of the web site, we hope to obtain feedback from users. We will explore the possibility of online feedback system.
- We will work with John Gardiner to track number of hits for the site to gauge usage.
- A major deficiency in the resources currently available on the UC Davis is the lack of services/assistance for faculty and staff who do not have immediate family members living in the area.

Accomplishments:
A major accomplishment for this quarter was the completion of a web-based collective for information pertinent to work-life issues that will serve both faculty and staff within the SVM. The website can be accessed by the following link:
