POSITION AVAILABLE: Assistant/Associate Professor of Anesthesiology

SALARY: Dependent on qualifications and experience

START DATE: December 1, 2017

QUALIFICATIONS: Veterinarian with advanced training in anesthesiology. Board certification or eligibility by the American College of Veterinary Anesthesia and Analgesia, or the European College of Veterinary Anesthesia and Analgesia is required. PhD or advanced training in research is preferred. Clinical experience and competence in veterinary anesthesiology is required. Demonstrated aptitude/experience in teaching is required. Documented research record or potential to develop an independent research program in anesthesiology or pain management is required; emphasis in pain management is preferred. Must possess outstanding interpersonal and communication skills and a demonstrated ability to work with others in a collegial team atmosphere.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

Teaching: Responsibilities include: 1) participation in lectures and laboratories in the DVM professional curriculum; 2) clinical teaching in the Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital (VMTH); 3) participation in the graduate clinical (resident) training program of the VMTH; and 4) participation in the graduate academic programs (MS and PhD) of the campus.

Clinical: The position includes a 50% clinical commitment to the Anesthesiology Service of the VMTH. The individual will be responsible for directing, instructing and supervising veterinary students and house officers; providing health care and service to patients; and advising and consulting with referring veterinarians and clients.

Research: The development of a creative, independent and productive basic and/or clinically-oriented research program in anesthesiology and/or pain management is a fundamental and indispensable requirement of the position, including publication of results in professional/scientific journals. The individual will provide leadership in directing research projects of residents and/or graduate students.

Service: University and public service through committee work, participation in professional organizations, continuing education and other appropriate means is required.

APPLICATION: To receive fullest consideration, applications must be submitted by June 30, 2017. Position is open until filled. To begin the application process, interested applicants should register online at https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF01450 and submit the following materials: 1) a letter of intent outlining special interest in the position, overall related qualifications, experience and career goals; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) the names and addresses of four professional references; and 4) a statement summarizing experience and professional contributions in the area of equity and diversity. For questions about the application process please contact:

Dinah Greenstreet (email: dgreenstreet@ucdavis.edu) Management Services Officer IV Department of Surgical and Radiological Sciences School of Veterinary Medicine University of California Davis, CA 95616-8745 Phone (530) 752-9774; Fax (530) 752-6042

The University of California, Davis, and The Department of Surgical & Radiological Sciences, School of Veterinary Medicine, are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. UC Davis is a smoke- and tobacco-free campus effective January 1, 2014.

The Department of Surgical and Radiological Sciences is the largest and one of the most diverse departments within the School of Veterinary Medicine (www.vetmed.ucdavis.edu) and includes more than 60 clinician scientist and basic science faculty members from the broadly defined fields of surgery, diagnostic imaging, oncology, anesthesia & critical care, vision sciences, neurology, dentistry and exercise physiology. The City of Davis (population 65,000) is a unique, progressive, vibrant and family-oriented city. It is a close-knit and friendly community, ideal for families and students (www.davischamber.com/community).