

Scrub Rooms

A surgical scrub room in a veterinary facility is where the surgical team performs thorough hand scrubbing and dons sterile attire before entering the surgery area. This process helps maintain aseptic conditions and reduces the risk of infections during surgical procedures.