

White Coat Ceremony Message

Whether or not you are able to attend, be a part of the alumni tradition of sharing words of welcome and encouragement to an incoming student with an individually written note.

Students will receive their notes in the pocket of their white coat at the White Coat Ceremony on Friday, August 16.

Oscar W. Schalm Lectureship

“From prions to Alzheimer’s disease and beyond: aggregated proteins and their steady march through the brain”

Saturday, October 26, 2019 • 12 p.m.
Gladys Valley Hall, Antech Auditorium 1020

2019 Oscar W. Schalm Lecturer Christina Sigurdson, DVM '94, Ph.D.

Christina Sigurdson, DVM '94, PhD, Dipl. ACVP is a Professor of Pathology at the University of California, San Diego. She trained as a veterinary pathologist, then received her PhD investigating chronic wasting disease (CWD) in mule deer at Colorado State University with Dr. Edward Hoover. Her post-doctoral research utilized new transgenic mouse models to study how prion structure impacts cross-species prion transmission at the University of Zürich with Dr. Adriano Aguzzi. She then joined the faculty at UC San Diego where her lab discovered PrP structural barriers that limit CWD conversion of human PrP. Her lab investigates the structural determinants of prions that govern conversion, conformation, and propagation through the CNS. She and her colleagues have discovered key features on the transmission and pathogenesis of chronic wasting disease in deer as well as the key interacting segments of the prion protein that control prion conversion, strains, and species barriers.

2019 Fall Festival

Alumni Reunion &
Continuing Education Program

October 25-27, 2019
Davis, CA

Oscar W. Schalm 1909 ~ 1982

The Oscar W. Schalm Lectureship, established in 1988, honors the memory of Oscar W. Schalm, a founding faculty member of the UC Davis School of Veterinary Medicine and an eminent teacher and research scientist in the fields of bovine mastitis, diagnostic veterinary hematology and clinical pathology. The lectureship promotes a tradition of scholarship, service and commitment to veterinary medicine and recognizes the lecturer’s distinguished contributions to the profession.
