

UC DAVIS
VETERINARY MEDICINE

PRESENTS:

GAMEFOWL WELLNESS PROGRAM

University of California, Davis veterinarians and poultry scientists will be providing gamefowl owners with important information on topics aimed to improve the health, management, and nutrition of their birds.

Topics will include:

- Vaccination - what, how and when?
- Behavior - to stop bad habits
- Management - to provide the best care possible for your birds
- Biosecurity - measures to prevent the introduction of disease to your flock
- Common diseases - how to recognize, prevent and treat
- Nutrition - for better growth and performance

More information on the program will follow on the UC Davis Poultry Health website:
