2021 Alumni Reunion Weekend

VIRTUAL
April 30 – May 1, 2021

Oscar W. Schalm Lectureship

Friday, April 30, 2021 • 12 p.m.
“Viral Discovery and the Impact of Hidden Viruses”
Saturday, May 1, 2021 • 11:15 p.m.
“Stealth Pathogens: What are we missing?”

Patricia Pesavento ‘00, DVM, PhD, DACVP

Dr. Pesavento is a Swarthmore College graduate and received her PhD from Harvard University in Cambridge, MA. Her DVM training and pathology residency were both at UC Davis. After two years of infectious disease diagnostics at the California Animal Health and Food Safety Laboratories, she joined the faculty in the Department of Pathology, Microbiology, and Immunology, at the School of Veterinary Medicine at UC Davis. The organizing focus of work in the Pesavento laboratory is investigation of the biology of interactions between viruses and their target tissues. Depending on the virus, that work ranges from viral discovery, to investigations of causality in natural disease, including tissue culture models of virus: host cell interaction. The laboratory has current focused efforts on persistent viruses and their dynamics and disease association in intensively housed animals such as sheltered animals or wildlife at the human-animal interface.

Oscar W. Schalm
1909 ~ 1982

The Oscar W. Schalm Lectureship, established in 1988, honors the memory of Oscar W. Schalm, a founding faculty member of the UC Davis School of Veterinary Medicine and an eminent teacher and research scientist in the fields of bovine mastitis, diagnostic veterinary hematology and clinical pathology. The lectureship promotes a tradition of scholarship, service and commitment to veterinary medicine and recognizes the lecturer’s distinguished contributions to the profession.
